

FWP Teacher Workshop

Oct. 20, 2016

8 a.m.-5 p.m.

Fort Peck Interpretive Center

Fort Peck, Montana

Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks

Join FWP's Marc Kloker and others in providing hands-on activities to get your students involved, interested, and active in the outdoors and life sciences. The workshop will be a hands-on "class," with teachers performing most of the suggested activities themselves. Marc Kloker is currently the Information and Education Manager for FWP Region 6 in Glasgow, and a former science teacher (10 years) at the 7-12 grade level. Activities will be catered to 5-12th grade, but can be adapted to all grade levels. 8 OPI Renewal Credits will be available

Activities may include: Conducting Field investigations, how to collect insects and plants, fish population sampling, comparative ecosystem activities, information on sage-grouse / classroom activity, interpretive center tour, and information regarding FWP resources available to your classroom.

To participate:

- Submit your registration form and fee of $10 (lunch provided) by Oct. 18.
- Wear comfortable clothing and be prepared for the outdoors/weather as several activities will (hopefully) take place outside.
- Bring a flashdrive, water bottle, pencil, and anything else for your convenience.

Fill out (typing is preferred) and mail/drop off to:

Marc Kloker, 1 Airport Rd., Glasgow, MT 59230 or scan/email to mkloker@mt.gov
